2025 End-of-Year Issue for Our Middle East Customers

NEWSLETTER

Message from IAS President.

Dear Valued Customers and Partners,

As we conclude an extraordinary year, I would like to extend my heartfelt appreciation to our customers, assessors, and stakeholders throughout the Middle East. The International Accreditation Service (IAS) remains deeply committed to serving the region with the highest level of responsiveness, technical expertise, and customer care.

At IAS, we understand that every organization we serve plays a vital role in advancing safety, quality, and confidence in products and services. Our mission continues to be centered on supporting you with a breadth of accreditation programs, training opportunities, and technical resources that are unparalleled in the industry.

As many of you know, IAS offers 24 accreditation programs. In addition to the standard programs for testing laboratories, inspection agencies and certification bodies, we have also worked with industries to create new accreditation programs. We are also proud that our services extend beyond traditional accreditation – through initiatives such as our comprehensive training programs and the International Journal of Conformity Assessment (IJCA), the only professional publication dedicated to the field of conformity assessment. The most recent issue of the IJCA focuses on Artificial Intelligence and its growing role in accreditation and conformity assessment and is available free of charge on the IAS website – I encourage all our partners to explore this valuable resource.

As we reflect on 2025, we celebrate both milestones and continued collaboration. This year marked the 50th Anniversary of IAS, a momentous occasion recognizing five decades of leadership, innovation, and global impact. Our ongoing engagement in the Middle East – including customer meetings in Bahrain and Kuwait, and our participation as an exhibitor and sponsor at the 7th Oman International Conference on Food Safety and Quality (April 21–23, 2025) – demonstrates our dedication to strengthening relationships and providing locally relevant support.

As we look ahead, IAS will continue to expand our services, invest in technical capacity, and remain an accessible and trusted partner to accreditation bodies, regulators, and organizations across the region.

Thank you for your continued confidence in IAS. We look forward to achieving even greater success together in the year ahead.

Warm regards,
